With the submission of this manuscript, I would like to undertake that this work is original and has not been published elsewhere, accepted for publication elsewhere, or under consideration for publication elsewhere. This manuscript discuss the option to create an effective anti-corruption legal framerwork in Indonesia is to use the Deferred Prosecution Agreement (DPA) model. DPA are commonly used in the U.K. and in the U.S. to overcome difficulties in enforcing prosecution of criminal acts by corporations, namely inefficiency, effort, and cost. In this paper, I show the DPA model in the U.K and the U.S and comparing its applications in both country. Australia is also developing a DPA model suitable for their country by looking from U.K and U.S. This paper is significant because Indonesia can learn from these jurisdictions so we can apply it in the Indonesian legal system.

I believe this manuscript findings of this study are rekevant to scope of your journal and will be of interest of its readership. I have approved the manuscript to Hasanuddin Law Review. There are no conflicts of interest to disclose. Thank you for your consideration of this manuscript.

Looking forward to hearing you at your earliest convinience.

Sincerely,

Febby Mutiara Nelson
